Description: Mihoc Studio is a company offering photo-video services for various events, both public and private. Due to today's technology, clients' desires to improve their photos have increased. In order to do everything in the shortest possible time, we use the help of artificial intelligence in various dedicated editing programs. Artificial intelligence (AI) can be an extremely useful tool in improving photos, with a variety of features and applications that facilitate the editing process. Due to today's technology, clients' desires to improve their photos have increased. In order to do everything in the shortest possible time, we use the help of artificial intelligence in various dedicated editing programs. Artificial intelligence (AI) in the photo field has many advantages namely increased efficiency, AI can process and edit images and videos much faster than a human can.
